

Dear doctor,

Roll out of TIS Self-service

Health Education England is delighted to announce that following successful testing, we will be rolling out TIS Self Service (TSS) and your next ARCP is going to be included in the phase of our roll out plans. Going forward you will be expected to submit your Form R through the TSS system, further details are below.

As part of this phase, you will be able to complete your Form R parts A and B, as well as the Covid19 self-declaration form.

We understand that you might have already submitted the pdf version of Form R part B for your upcoming or recent ARCP, nevertheless, please sign up to TSS to submit the online Form R part A and B as this will prove to be more efficient way of submitting the Form R with no need for digital signature! We will not be able to accept the Form R part A or B in pdf version as of 2024.

TSS will also give you access to the information we hold about you, including your training programme and placements.

This can be done at your convenience using desktop, laptop or your mobile devices, and you can have peace of mind that your information is secure thanks to the extra security step we have introduced when you login.

How to use the system

To help get you started we have set out some key information you will need to get you up and running. You will need to set up an account in TSS by following the below sign-up process. You will only need to do this once for the initial set up. Please use the email address you received this communication on to sign up. If this is not the email address you want HEE contacting you on, please contact tis.eoe@hee.nhs.uk so we can update TIS.

Once you access the system, you will need to submit your ARCP Form R (parts A, B and Covid 19 self-declaration) using the digital Form R, included as a core part of TSS. Please note that you will no longer need to submit Form Rs outside TSS, if you have any issues, please contact tis.eoe@hee.nhs.uk.

Please keep to the 2 week deadlines if you are submitting this form R part B for your upcoming ARCP.
