Dr Juno Jesuthasan MRCP MRCGP

Dr Dipika Thakerar MRCGP

Dr Anthony James Reidy BM BS

Dr Christopher Uzokwe MRCP MRCGP

Dr Darren West MRCGP

Dr Rachael Morant MRCGP

Profile: Modern, purpose-built town centre practice with a list size of 12600 and a branch surgery. We are a busy urban practice with a diverse ethnic mix of patients serving the whole of Ipswich and some surrounding villages.

We have a 2 GP Trainers and one of our Nurse Practitioners is an Associate Trainer. We have been involved in educating GP Trainees, Foundation Year Trainees and Cambridge Medical students for some years now.

5 partners, 1 salaried doctor, 3 Nurse Practitioners, 7 Practice Nurses, 1 HCA

Juno Jesuthasan is a Trainer and Programme Director at Ipswich GPVTS. His interests include Medical Education, IM&T, Practice Management, NLP, Peak Performance Training and Horse Racing! He is also a GP appraiser for East Suffolk.

Dipi Thakerar is a Trainer. Her interests include Medical Education, Occupational Health and Practice Finance.

Philosophy: We believe in being a learning organisation and the whole team being involved in training you.

- Teamworking is the lynchpin of Primary Care and we do our best to foster a stimulating, supported, working and learning environment. The trainee is immediately integrated into the team and we welcome your input in helping us to improve.
- We have a needy patient group who are an invaluable learning resource and though we work hard, the work is very satisfying.
- We are very hot on IT and as of 2008-2009 we are integrating cutting-edge IT into our training both for staff and doctors.
- Though the New GP Curriculum will be the foundation of your training, problem-based learning using PUNs [Patients Unmet Needs] and DENs [Doctors Educational Needs] will be the best path to proficiency and then expertise.

Suitability: If you are a hardworking trainee who wants to be able to handle any situation in the future, no matter how challenging, then come to us and we will train you to be an outstanding GP!