

Junior Papers Day – 12 July 2016

The highlight of the NHS Education East of England educational calendar - the Junior Papers Day this year was held on the 12th of July at the British Racing School Newmarket.

This year the event was supported by the Faculty of Dental Surgery RCS England represented by Dr Mike Escudier Member FDS Board and RCS Council and organised by Mr A. Majumdar Consultant OMFS Luton and Dunstable University Hospital and very ably coordinated by Ruth Davis DCT Administrator Health Education East of England.

There was a very good response from the regional DCT's and an interesting and varied range of oral and poster presentations were shortlisted for presentation on the day.

The varied topics included analysis of nodal yields in neck dissections, audit of handover sheets, use of prophylactic antibiotics, use of 3D printing in OMFS and several interesting case presentations.

The venue was full to capacity with a good representation from all grades and units in region and a participative audience.

The judges were Dr Mike Escudier, Mr Derek Von Arx, Mr Pinaki Sen, Miss Sharon Prince and Dr Alex Baxter.

First prizes and RCS certificates were awarded by Dr Escudier to
