Intercollegiate Board for Training
in Pre-Hospital Emergency Medicine

The Applicants Guide for Pre-Hospital Emergency Medicine

August 2018 & February 2019 Recruitment

Introduction

Pre-Hospital Emergency Medicine (PHEM) is a General Medical Council approved sub-specialty for Anaesthesia, Acute Medicine, Intensive Care Medicine and Emergency Medicine.

Pre-hospital Emergency Medicine involves providing immediate medical care in what is often a resource limited and physically challenging setting. Add to this the combination of time pressure, a medical emergency and an unfamiliar multi-disciplinary team this makes for a challenging subspecialist area of medical practice. Many regard the opportunity to support their local ambulance services and provide medical care in some of the most dangerous, distressing and challenging circumstances as both a privilege and, perhaps more importantly, a truly professional endeavour. In the desire to improve the quality and safety of care, programmes of education and training have been developed.

Recruitment

It is important that all applicants read the IBTPHEM Curriculum and Assessment System Guide available on the IBTPHEM website.

Recruitment into approved sub-specialty posts is only through the annual national recruitment process. Health Education England co-ordinate the national process for recruiting trainees into Pre-Hospital Emergency Medicine on behalf of all LETBs/Deaneries

Selection for Pre-Hospital Emergency Medicine will be hosted at a single centre at Health Education England in the East of England and candidates will be able to preference all available posts in Pre-Hospital Emergency Medicine across the UK.

PHEM sub-specialty training may be considered part of your specialty training or 'Out of Programme' (OOP).

It is important that you carefully follow the necessary processes when applying for sub-specialty training either as part of your Higher Specialty Training programme or as an out of programme experience. Failure to complete all the steps outlined below may result in your OOP application being declined by your training programme director and therefore you would not be able to take up a PHEM training post :-

- Prior to application please ensure that you discuss this with your specialty Training Programme Director and Educational Supervisor at the earliest opportunity to ensure that you know the relevant permissions needed.
- Once a provisional discussion has taken place with your Educational Supervisor and TPD, trainees must fully complete an OOP application form* (available to download from the HEE local office website) and obtain all required approval signatures before submitting the form to the HEE local team for final approval. You will also need to submit the required supporting documents which include a brief overview of planned activities whilst out of programme; these must be submitted with ALL OOP applications.

- Once final HEE local office approval has been given, trainees are required to give 3 months' notice to their current Trust.

*Please note that HEE local offices request that OOP applications are submitted with 6 months' notice prior to the commencement of the OOP. This is important as it allows time for applications to the GMC for recognition of training time in PHEM towards CCT if relevant.

For those applicants who will require OOP to undertake PHEM sub-specialty training, the IBTPHEM OOP form should be completed and presented at the Selection Centre. This is NOT an OOP application but an indication that you have commenced the process and are likely to get approval.

Submitting an Application

All applications must be made via the on-line system (Oriol). Please ensure the contact details you provide are correct and the email address is the one you regularly use. Applications submitted after the deadline will NOT be considered. See the timeline below relating to current recruitment activity. We do not accept applications for a planned deferred start date. Start dates may be delayed in cases of illness or maternity only provided all the eligibility requirements for the application start date have been met.

The PHEM application form asks only for factual information about you and your employment history, we do not ask you to write essay-type answers to competency based questions, apart from your supporting information and we do not 'score' CVs. When completing your employment history please ensure you put full details on the posts you have undertaken, the specialty and dates as this information will be used for the long listing process in line with the requirements stated on the Person Specification. It is therefore, essential that you enter the information on each of the posts you have done rather than just the base specialty i.e. ACCS, Emergency Medicine - please show the different specialties you have undertaken within this post.

Once your application has been submitted you are unable to make any changes apart from to update your own contact details. Please ensure that you do not submit unless it is complete. You are, however, able to update your referee details up to a point.

Equality and Diversity

All LETBs are committed to ensuring that their selection procedures are subject to best equal opportunities practice and that no one is disadvantaged by ethnic background, gender, marital status, sexual orientation or age. LETB equal opportunity processes are regularly monitored. Responses to questions on the application form regarding Equal Opportunity Monitoring information are NOT seen by any of our assessors. All appointments will be made against the agreed person specification. Candidates should be able to demonstrate their commitment towards Pre-Hospital Emergency Medicine.

Overseas Doctors

LETBs/Deaneries welcome applications from suitably qualified doctors from overseas provided they are also able to legally work in the UK as a doctor in training and meet the eligibility criteria set out in the Person Specification. Overseas doctors are those who, regardless of where they obtained their primary medical qualification are not nationals of the European Economic Area (EEA). They commonly do not have a right of indefinite residence in the UK or benefit from European Community rights. Some applicants may be considered before others on the basis of immigration status in accordance with the immigration, Asylum and Nationality Act 2006.

Overseas doctors with indefinite leave to remain (settled status) and those whose immigration status entitles them to work without restriction in the UK are eligible to apply for specialty training programmes and will be considered on an equal basis with UK and EEA nationals. Other non-UK or non-EEA nationals with limited leave to remain in the UK and whose employment will require a Tier 2 sponsorship, are subject to the Resident Labour Market Test (RLMT). The Resident Labour Market Test means that such doctors can only be made an offer of a training programme if there are no suitable UK or EEA national candidates.

We will consider your immigration status as at the closing date for applications. You will be able to tell us if you expect your immigration status to change before commencement of the post you are applying for. Evidence of immigration status should normally consist of a biometric residence card, date stamped passport and accompanying letter from the Home Office. Such evidence must be provided at the Selection Centre.

Further information regarding overseas doctors is available from:

Choosing a Training Programme

Applicants submit one application for a PHEM training programme. You will be asked to rank your geographical preferences in ranked order on Oriel. You are advised to read very carefully the information pages from the LETBs before making your choice and contact the relevant leads for further information.

Training Programmes are split into 3 schemes as follows:

- A (blended) = split time between base specialty and Pre-Hospital Medicine over 2 years
- B = 6 months in Pre-Hospital Medicine, 6 months in base specialty alternating over 2 years
- C = One year in Pre-Hospital Medicine

The IBTPHEM Guide to Training details these further – see www.ibtphem.org.uk

Please note that scheme A (blended) posts may be limited to a particular specialty where the other part of the post will be hosted e.g. Emergency Medicine. If a post is limited in this way, only trainees from that specialty will be able to apply. Please ensure you only rank the posts relevant to your base specialty.

Fitness

As part of the eligibility requirements it is essential to have a fitness level consistent with the ability to perform a full range of pre-hospital duties. You therefore, need to provide the necessary evidence and upload of your application form, please select 'Alternative Certificate' as the option or email the Recruitment Team recruitment.eoe@hee.nhs.uk. This evidence must be received by the Selection Centre in order for your application to proceed further. Please download the test and certificate (appendix 1) and contact a qualified organisation or gym/personal trainer in order to undertake and have the test signed off. This will be at your own expense.

Selection Centre

The Selection Centre

If you are successfully shortlisted you will be invited to attend the Selection Centre.

Venue

This will be held at: Health Education England - East of England
West Wing, Victoria House
Capital Park
Fulbourn
Cambridge, CB21 5XA

Parking is minimal at the venue, please do allow plenty of time to park and arrive prior to your interview. There is not a waiting area should relatives attend with you, and we do not have any photocopying facilities or refreshments available. Applicants will be notified if they are invited to Selection Centre via e-mail and will be able to book their Selection Centre place using the on-line application system.

Documents

You will be required to bring specific documents with you including photographic evidence. Please see the Document Checklist (appendix 2) which can be downloaded from the website. Please bring the required documents in the order set out on the form.

Please also note you are required to bring your Personal Portfolio

The panel would like to see selected items from your portfolio that support the following topics –

- your last multi-source feedback
- organisational/management skills
- preparing for pre-hospital emergency medicine (PHEM)

We realise that candidates will have a great deal of evidence in their portfolios at this stage of their careers, and we ask that the best evidence for the above areas only is brought to the panel. Please make this evidence easily available to the Panel.

Dress code

The selection centre may involve contact with simulated patients placed in scenarios consistent with pre-hospital environments who should be treated as if they were patients, for clinical communication, physical examination and limited management. The dress code for the selection centre should be comfortable enough to allow clinical practice/contact with patients in a variety of settings; this means that your dress should not constrain the ability to demonstrate recognised skills, for example the delivery of CPR on the floor. You are not expected to wear a suit or equivalent, but smart informal dress would be appropriate. Clinical uniforms of any style should not be worn. Inappropriately revealing styles such as low cut necklines and mini-skirts, dangling jewellery/accessories and hairstyles that may interfere with a physical examination should be avoided. Equally, forms of dress that cover the face will normally be deemed inappropriate in such situations.

References

It is your responsibility to contact your referees and ask them to complete the online structured reference form. References will be requested via Oriol once job offers are sent out, referees will be sent a link and password to be able to complete the online form.

Structure of the day

After having your documents checked by the administrative team you will be given a candidate briefing to give you an overview of your time at the Selection Centre. You will then be assessed in 2 stations;

- Interview/Portfolio station – 20 minutes
- Clinical Scenario/Communication station – 20 minutes

A review of your portfolio will take place in the Portfolio station

Preparation hints: Listen and read carefully all instructions given on the day regarding the exercises. Trust the process which has had excellent candidate evaluation; specifically they have said the process is fair even from those who are not successful first time.

You will be at the Selection Centre for a maximum of 1 hour and 30 minutes.

Programme Allocation

Entrance to PHEM is competency based, with successful candidates being able to demonstrate the competencies that we know are required to start Pre-Hospital Emergency Medicine training to a satisfactory level. Once selected, successful candidates are allocated to regions based on ranking them by their total score achieved over the exercises involved in the selection process along with scores from the application form. Higher scoring candidates are offered first choice of region where possible.

Offers

If you have satisfactorily demonstrated all the competences that are being assessed, you will be awarded a rating based on your performance at Selection Centre combined with your shortlisting score. This is used for ranking purposes and you will be made an offer of a PHEM training programme subject to availability and your ranking.

You will be offered via Oriol email and candidates are given 48 hours to accept or decline the post. If no vacancies remain in your first choice region you will be offered a choice further down your preferences. If there are no vacancies available, as a reserve candidate you may be considered for remaining vacancies in any of your other preferred regions through our local clearing system should offers be declined. Once you are offered a post, should you decline the offer, you will automatically be taken out of the recruitment process and will not progress further for that round. If you are offered and accept a post you need to apply via your LETB for an OOPE/OOPT in order to be released to take up the post.

Offer of Employment and Pre-Employment Checks

The offer and allocation of a Programme referred to above is NOT an offer of employment. An employment contract detailing the terms and conditions of employment will be issued by the responsible employing organisation and is made subject to satisfactory pre-employment checks. Your offer of employment will include the name of your employer, the start date and length of the period of employment, the location, the hours and the minimum rate of remuneration and the notice period applicable. The employing organisation carry out a number of pre-employment checks before an offer of employment can be confirmed. These will include verification of identity, registration and qualifications, right to work (immigration), employment history and employment reference checks (these are different from the clinical reference checks that the LETB needs), a Disclosure and Barring Service (DBS) check and an occupational health check. Some of these, verification of identity, registration and qualifications and right to work for example, may also be undertaken by the LETB during the recruitment process.

FITNESS TEST (Appendix 1)

All PHEM applicants must successfully undertake this fitness test prior to the close of applications. This is the fitness test used by the Welsh Ambulance Service and should be carried out by an approved fitness instructor at your own expense; this does not need to be an instructor connected with the NHS.

The test consists of an assessment of mean oxygen consumption responses and time intervals, observed during work simulation. Following a warm up period the test mimics –

- 1) a stair climb carrying a mock medical kit,
- 2) a period of resuscitation (chest compressions only) and
- 3) a final task of carrying a load of just less than half the weight of the average human by carry chair.

The test is conducted as follows:

PHASE ONE

Warm up step test
5 x 2 minute stages
Cease @ 80% max. heart rate
or end of stage five
(30cm step height)

REST 2 minutes

PHASE TWO

Stage 1
1 x 2 minute stepping carrying 10kg load
Stage 2
2 minute chest compressions
Stage 3
3.5 minute stepping carrying 30kg load
(15cm step)

N.B. During this stage you may take ONE opportunity to place weights on the floor to readjust your grip.

All stages cease if unable to continue or if a heart rate of greater than 90% is reached.

Candidates attending for test are required to wear suitable clothing i.e. sports wear, which must include suitable footwear, i.e. training shoes.

If you know of any reason why you would be unable to undertake this test on the day, i.e. cold, flu etc., please contact us to make an alternative appointment.

FITNESS SCREENING

The Instructor is responsible for the safety of the candidate throughout the duration of the fitness screening programme. You must inform the Instructor if you feel unwell at any time.

Prior to commencing the fitness testing programme, a blood pressure measurement must be taken. Candidates' blood pressure must not exceed:

160 mmhg Systolic

100 mmhg Diastolic

Candidates whose blood pressure exceeds the above figures will not be permitted to commence the programme.

If at any time during the programme, the Instructor feels that as a result of continuing, the candidate is in danger of damaging their health, the programme must be terminated with immediate effect.

The decision of the Instructor is final.
