

The Cambridge Clinical Research Fellowship programme is now open for applications. In 2018 ACT has partnered with Diabetes UK to co-fund a fellowship in diabetes research.

Applications can be from any discipline. Applications are welcome in the field of cancer research (particularly brain cancer) and clinical engineering.

The scheme provides trainee doctors (post FY2) with one year salary support (and consumables allowance) at the entry point of the clinical academic research training pathway. Fellows gain experience and generate pilot data as a springboard to enhance applications to external funders. Fellowships are allocated through competitive peer review.
