East of England Perioperative Medicine group oral presentation competition instructions to candidates

1. The above competition is conducted by the East of England Perioperative Medicine group (EoE POM G).
2. Junior anaesthetists, foundation doctors and medical students in the East of England are invited to participate in this competition.
3. The candidates should choose a title in areas such as audit, survey, research, case report or innovation in perioperative medicine.
4. The candidates who wish to participate must send an abstract before April 10/ 2018.
5. The work described in the abstract must be based on work performed primarily by the candidate and the approval of the local ethics committee should be sought as necessary.
6. The abstract should state the title, authors, institution, purpose or aim of the study or investigation, method, results and principal conclusions with no more than 3 references. The text and a maximum of one figure or table should be no more than 400 words.
7. The submissions should be made electronically to nicholas.levy@wsh.nhs.uk. Six abstracts will be selected for presentation at the EoE POM G meeting and the successful authors contacted.
8. Each candidate will have 8 minutes for presentation and 2 minutes for discussion. During the discussion only the candidate will be expected to answer any questions from the audience.
9. Three judges will be nominated by the EoE POM G committee to select the best 3 presentations on the basis of: novelty, clarity, significance to clinical practice and methodology (score card available from Jane Theobald).
10. On the basis of the ranking prizes will be awarded by the East of England Perioperative Medicine group.
11. All short listed candidates will receive a certificate from the East of England Perioperative Medicine group.
