

Being a trainee representative

Getting a good handover

Transcript

Getting a good handover is essential to doing your job efficiently and well. If you haven't received a comprehensive handover, ask for one! Seek out the people who can tell you what you should be doing – whether that's your predecessor, TPD, medical staffing department, etc - and ask them for more information. Here are some questions to get you started.