Purpose

Health Education England (HEE) London and South East (LaSE) and East of England (EoE) repatriation Project Teams continue to work in partnership to manage the successful and safe repatriation of approximately 900 postgraduate medical training posts. The first phase of the project repatriated 55 higher specialty training posts; this has created further opportunities for trainees wishing to pursue a career in medicine in NHS Trusts in the East of England. The second phase is now almost complete as the repatriations occur over the next few months. The third phase of the project is progressing as meetings with key stakeholders are scheduled and discussions begin for 2018/19 repatriations.

Progress

As we approach the third year of the project, meetings and discussions are taking place to reach a consensus for the repatriation of all remaining posts. HEE EoE has now recruited to 81% of posts creating numerous positive opportunities and experiences for trainees placed at the various NHS trusts in the East of England

Essex, Bedfordshire and Hertfordshire (EBH) Foundation School

EBH Foundation School indicative numbers are very positive with more medical students opting to join Foundation training programmes the EoE region.

If you would like to provide feedback, or would like further information regarding the EBH Foundation School please email foundation.eoe@hee.nhs.uk and one of the team will be more than happy to help.

Repatriation by the Numbers

As we move forward into the New Year, 41% of total repatriations have now been successfully achieved over a period of 966 days. This equates to an average of 35 posts at each of the 11 trusts collaborating on the project. There are now 346 Trainees in posts in the EoE, all gaining valuable experience from various training programmes. With 454 posts remaining in scope within the project and plans in place to repatriate the majority of these by 2018, Training Programme Directors and Heads' of School from both regions have been working in partnership to bring the project to a successful close.
